Paris Movie Walks: Ten Guided Tours Through the City of Lights! Camera! Action! By Michael Schurmann

Ten walking tours let you be the star on the greatest movie set in the world. From Truffaut and Godard to Hanks and Hepburn, Paris has been a magnet for filmmakers and movie stars, whose careers don't seem complete unless they've made at least one film in the world's most romantic location. Now see it from a whole new angle through the lenses of famous directors. Four walks take you past all of Paris's famous sites while telling which stars walked these same streets before you and where they paused to kiss or kill. Four more explore hidden nooks that tourists often overlook, and two offer a taste of the Old Paris of '30s and '40s film classics. In addition, a Further Afield chapter features locations that allow you to explore some of Paris's flea markets, green spaces, suburbs, and other areas of interest to visitors and moviemakers. Along the way, the author provides commentary to enrich your appreciation of what you're seeing as you sip a glass of wine or enjoy a coffee at a sidewalk cafe. Each walk starts and ends at a Metro stop for easy access from wherever you may be staying in the City of Light. Maps make it easy to follow the routes, and a film index guides you to the locations used in 160 films, ranging from The Bourne Identity, The Da Vinci Code, and The Devil Wears Prada to oldies but goodies like Charade and Sabrina and such French New Wave classics as Breathless and The 400 Blows. A fresh, fun, low-cost way to explore Paris-for the first time or the fiftieth.

From the Author

Paris has probably been explored and mapped more thoroughly than any other city on the globe. Yet it is full of "hidden" sights: street corners, cafés, and urban beauty spots where famous movie scenes were shot.

Though often unremarkable in themselves, these sights have given many of us our first idea of the look and feel of the real city. And in the process, they have made us eager to follow Jason Bourne, Amélie, and hosts of other favorite characters to see the sights for ourselves.

The walks in this book let you follow in their footsteps. On the way, you'll also learn a few things about the sights and the city itself--occasionally even about modern French life and culture in more general terms. But I can promise you one thing: there will be no endless lists of French monarchs and their annoying mistresses. Instead, you'll find ten walks, divided into the three categories mentioned above in the product description, along with a chapter that takes you a bit further afield to street markets, green spaces, and the like. My hope is that they will give you the opportunity to experience the sights, the sounds, and the smells of the city, and to feel its buzz. As someone who knew a lot more about Paris than I once said: "Paris is a moveable feast." Enjoy!
